

Colfax Avenue Bridge passes over the LA River in Studio City. It has a foot bridge leading to a hiking path which gives great connectivity (access) for bicyclists and people on horseback. CBS Studio is adjacent to the bridge. When you approach the bridge from Ventura Blvd., there are no clues that you are traveling over a very famous and treacherous river. This new bridge stimulates an appreciation for the LA river and visually indicates that the river is below. The belvederes, offer a look out point. A diagonal in the roadway allows a motorist the understanding of the river's path.

A visceral connection with the waterway occurs when standing on the belvederes. Look for two stone sculptures and a photographic plaque to see the entire art components.